

Morino presents Freewheelin' concerts
The Hamilton Spectator
By Graham Rockingham
Sep 13, 2007

Jim Morino is probably the biggest fan of folk and roots music around. Every Saturday morning from 10 a.m. to noon since 1994, Morino has hosted the Freewheeling Folk Show on McMaster University radio (CFMU 93.3), followed by Smokin' Bluegrass from noon to 1 p.m. To call it a labour of love would be an understatement. The retired public school music teacher doesn't get paid for the time he puts into the show -- and it's a lot. . . . Congratulations to Steven Andrews who won this year's Westtalia Idol contest at Westdale Village, winning a $500 prize sponsored by Judy Marsales Real Estate. Lyla Miklos placed second and Cameron Caton was third. This year's 10 entrants provided the strongest pool of talent in the four years of the Westtalia Idol competition.