Best Star Trek Character

My all time favourite character is Spock. Spock is probably the most identifiable icon of the "Star Trek" legend. Spock reminds me a lot of Atticus Finch from "To Kill A Mockingbird". Outside he's as stable as a rock. Inside he's a volcano of emotions. The most important of these emotions being love. Not fleeting, hormonal, puppy dog love, but genuine love for the people he's closest to - the two most notable being Kirk and McCoy. Spock would give up his own life rather than let anything happen to his two closest friends. I feel this makes him one of the most noble characters in our popular culture.
